

Multicultural Kid Blogs

For families and educators raising world citizens, through arts, activities, crafts, food, language, and love.

Around Pakistan in 10 Fun Facts!

June 3, 2016 by Tamania

Follow Us!

What an honour for me to write about Pakistan, the beautiful country where I was born and raised, as part of the Global Learning for Kids series by Multicultural Kid Blogs. The best learning happens when you're having fun and what could be more fun than a ride on a magic carpet. So hop on board and join me on this journey as we float over the land and learn about the culture, people and traditions of Pakistan.

Around Pakistan in Ten Fun Facts

1. Land of the Pure

Pakistan means “Land of the Pure” in Urdu, the national language of Pakistan. There are many lovely regional languages spoken in the country like Pushto, Punjabi, Sindhi, Balochi etc. English as the official language is also well-understood. Pakistan is located in the South Asian part of the world, right above the Arabian Sea and has India, China, Iran and Afghanistan as neighbors.

2. Mountains in the North

Look below you, we are above the most beautiful northern mountain ranges of Pakistan that include K2, and Nanga Parbat, the second and ninth highest peaks in the world. The Karakoram highway linking Pakistan and China is the highest international road in the world and part of the ancient silk route. The Khunjerab Pass is the highest border crossing in the world between Pakistan and China at 4800 meters. Do you see a polo match happening below? That's the Shandur Top, the highest polo ground in the world.

3. Capital City

Islamabad is the beautiful capital city of Pakistan surrounded by the Margalla Hills. That huge white jewel you see against the green hills is the Faisal Mosque, the largest mosque in South Asia and the fourth largest in the world. I don't blame you if you thought that was a palace, it is quite grand.

4. Football Central

Pakistan is one of the largest exporters of footballs to the world. They are made in the town of Sialkot. In 2014, 'Brazuca', was the official football of the FIFA World Cup and 42 million were exported from Pakistan to Brazil.

5. Music of Pakistan

Music and songs are an important part of traditional celebrations in Pakistan. Each region of the country has its unique dance like “bhangra”, “luddi”, “khattak dance” etc. Qawwali is Sufi devotional music that originated in this part of the world and is characterized through live performances and spiritual lyrics.

6. Second Largest Salt Mine in the World

Khewra Salt Mines in Pakistan are the second largest in the world. They are a major tourist attraction in the region and were discovered by Alexander the Great's troops in 320 BC.

7. Ancient Civilizations and Dynasties

The land that makes up Pakistan has been home to many ancient civilizations like the Indus Valley civilization and many kingdoms like the Moghal Empire. Remnants and landmarks are spread around the country and provide a peek into the land's history. Look carefully below at some fine examples of Moghal architecture in the city of Lahore.

8. People of Pakistan

Pakistan is the sixth largest country in the world by population. Around 35% of the population is less than 15 and the median age is 22. Malala Yousafzai has been an important voice for the children of Pakistan, highlighting the need of quality education for a country where the literacy rate is 54% . Women have a lower literacy rate than men. However, women in Pakistan have strong role models in Fatima Jinnah, one of the founders of the country; Benazir Bhutto, two time Prime Minister and the first head of state of a Muslim country; and Sharmeen Obaid-Chinoy, two time Oscar winner for her documentaries in 2012 and 2016.

9. Largest Ambulance Network in the World

Edhi Foundation, a non-profit charity organization of Pakistan, has the largest ambulance network in the world, providing services to the poor and the needy.

10. Gwadar

Gwadar Port in the south of the country is in the Balochistan Province and has the most beautiful blue water. This is one of the largest deep sea ports in the world and is planned to play a strategic role in the region.

This wraps up our tour of Pakistan. Hope you learned a few new things and enjoyed the journey. If you wish to learn more about the country, do follow my blog urdumom.com where I blog about our Pakistani-Canadian family and raising bilingual children (urdu/english).

All the pictures in this post were taken by Faisal Jamil, an avid photographer based in Pakistan, and have been used with permission (<https://www.flickr.com/photos/mafimushkala>)

This post is part of our series Global Learning for Kids. Each month we will feature a country and host a link party to collect posts about teaching kids about that country—crafts, books, lessons, recipes, etc. It will create a one-stop place full of information about the country.

This month we are learning all about Pakistan, so link up below any old or new posts designed to teach kids about Pakistan—crafts, books, lessons, recipes, music and more!

Link up your posts on teaching kids about Pakistan!

1. Multani Handicrafts
camelskin Lampshades

2. Multani Ceramic Art
Pakistan

3. Miniature Truck Art
Handicrafts Pakistan

4. Eid-Al-Adha Mubarak
& Henna-Mehndi
Designs

5. Hand Embroidery
(DIY)

6. Creative Khadija:
Street Graffiti Art
Pakistan-2

7. Connecting with Cultures Through Traditional Games

8. Around Pakistan in Ten
Fun Facts!

9. "Henna Hands:" A Simple Multicultural Craft Kids

10. Creamy Cashew Chicken Curry

11. The Story of Iqbal Masih and Malala Yousafzai

12. Children's Books set in Pakistan

13. Exploring Pakistan

14. Trip to Islamabad

15. Pakistan: Favorite Children's Books

(Cannot add links. Registration/trial expired)

